

Tech Tip from Steve Maxwell, Seven Enterprises

When replacing the rear main oil seal, it can be difficult to press the seal into place without damaging the seal. To make it easier, cut out a piece of lightweight cardboard in a rectangle $6\frac{1}{2}''$ by $3''$, wrap this around the primary gear, and slide the seal over the cardboard. Your seal will press in easily with no damage.

